

The Future Won't Ask for a Rank. It Will Ask for Leadership.

India's first national assessment that measures how students think, lead, and decide in real situations.

Unlike olympiads that test what students memorise, FYLL measures how they think, collaborate, and lead in real-life scenarios & gives every child a personalised leadership scorecard.

Questions that make students think, not memorise

GRADE Sr. Kg. to 1

THE LONELY KID • A child is sitting alone in the school playground, looking sad. What is the kindest thing to do?

- A. Wave at them from far away
- B. Ask: Do you want to play with us?
- C. Ignore them and keep playing

GRADE 2 & 3

THE FREE GIFT MESSAGE • You get a message on a gaming app: "Click this link to get 10,000 free coins! Limited time only!" What do you do FIRST?

- A. Ignore or delete it — it is likely a scam or virus
- B. Forward it to your friends so they can get coins too
- C. Click it quickly before the offer expires

GRADE 6 & 7

THE BAKING DISASTER • You are the leader of the Cupcake Stall at the School Fun Fair. You left 50 cupcakes at home. Parents are not picking up the phone. You cannot get the cupcakes from home. What do you do?

- A. Buy biscuits from the canteen and resell them as expensive "cookies"
- B. Refund everyone's money and apologise
- C. Borrow stationery and turn your stall into a "Custom Greeting Card" stall

GRADE 8 & 9

THE DYSFUNCTIONAL TEAM • Maya reveals she has dyslexia — writing takes her 3 times longer. She kept quiet because she didn't want special treatment. What is the best leadership response?

- A. "You handle Visual Design and Graphics; I will do the writing."
- B. "Don't worry, just do less work than everyone else."
- C. "You should have told me earlier. Deadlines are non-negotiable."
